GUIDELINES FOR GRANTING AFFILIATE/ASSOCIATE STATUS TO NATIONAL HUMAN RIGHTS INSTITUTIONS BEFORE THE AFRICAN COMMITTEE OF EXPERTS ON THE RIGHTS AND WELFARE OF THE CHILD

General

The African Committee of Experts on the Rights and Welfare of the Child (ACERWC) recognises the particular role that National Human Rights Institutions (NHRIs) play in promoting, protecting and enforcement of children's rights in Africa. Given their broad mandate as prescribed under the Paris Principles, the Committee notes that NHRIs, as independent organs which enhance the protection of human rights and process of building constitutionalism, can assume a primary role in taking measures to ensure that States fulfill their various obligations under the African Children's Charter. As they operate independently and are deemed to hold Governments accountable, the role of NHRIs in lobbying States to ratify international instruments, in participating in the State Party Report preparation, and in following up the implementation of the recommendations of treaty bodies, like the ACERWC, is not disputable. The Committee also notes that building on their tremendous role in the protection and promotion of children's rights in their respective countries, NHRIs can carry out strategic advocacy in mobilizing the required level of political and social acceptance of protection of children's rights. Against this backdrop and based on the fact that the Committee's relationship with NHRIs can support the execution of its mandate in the monitoring the implementation of the provisions of the Charter, the Committee takes the view that there is need to formalize its relationship with NHRIs in Africa.

The Committee's decision to formalize its relationship with NHRIs is made pursuant to article 42 of the African Charter on the Rights and Welfare of the Child, which gives the Committee the mandate to cooperate with other institutions that are working on the promotion and protection of the rights and welfare of the child. The Committee also notes that Rule 84 of the Rules of the Procedures of the Committee provides that 'National Human Rights Institutions established by State Parties to the African Children's Charter and functioning according to internationally recognized norms and standards may be granted affiliate status with the Committee'. Hence, with a view to operationalizing the provisions of the African children's Charter and the Rules of Procedure, the Committee adopts the Guidelines on Granting Affiliate/Associate Status to NHRIs before the ACERWC.
